Hatton Typeface.

On April the 2nd, 2015, the "largest burglary in English legal history" took place. Hotton Garden was taken by storm when its safe deposit company lost over £200 million. And this Hatton, the elegant multilingual typeface presented by Mathieu Desjardins, is a homage to the history of this now-legendary London District.

Hatton offers a selection of uppercase and lowercase letters formed by a combination of thick and thin strokes, both of which successfully form solid ground with a confident presence. It comes in 8 styles with 403 glyphs each including the classic light, regular, and bold weights, as well as ultralight, semibold, and black to provide you with more options. With diamond-shaped I's and pointed edges, you'll be able to share striking designs for posters, logos, branding/packaging designs, and texts. And who knows, you might even get the chance to use it yet again for baffling front-page news.
